

HOW WE WORK

You could do it yourself. But why would you?

DIDIT is the task execution service for busy founders, professionals, expats and their families. We take full ownership of everything you need done. In English or Czech.

Send the task. A WhatsApp, email or voice note is enough to start.

Agree on the scope. You approve the work and estimate before we start.

Consider it handled. We coordinate, follow through and tell you when it's done.

Remote or in person

We handle tasks:

Remotely. Calls, research, bookings, forms.

On your behalf. We go to the office on your behalf wherever possible.

In person, with you. When an office needs you there, for biometrics or a signature, we book the slot, prepare the file and can come with you.

We don't practice law, medicine or accounting. We coordinate the specialists who do.

What you're paying for

You pay for the time we spend on your task, tracked to the nearest 15 minutes. That includes research, calls, document reviews, advice, travel and follow-up.

"Just call and ask." Making the call, checking the answer and explaining the next steps is billable work.

"Just tell me how." Advice is billable, even if we already know the answer or you carry out the task yourself.

On us: your 15-minute discovery call and one price quote from a provider. Comparing, vetting, scheduling or managing providers is billable.

No retainer. No minimum hours. We invoice monthly for the time actually spent. Third-party expenses are charged separately, at cost.

Standard hours: Mon–Fri, 08:00–18:00. Outside these hours, rates are 50% higher.

If a task may run over, we tell you at 75% of the time estimate. You decide whether to continue.

Send it. We'll handle it.
